Acceptable Use Policy for Staff and Tutors

1. Introduction

Carfax College seeks to embrace the use of ICT to enhance teaching and learning and the college's administrative processes. The aim of this policy is to ensure that:

- Information is readily available to the relevant users throughout the college
- Confidentiality is always maintained
- The integrity of the information is maintained
- Data access and use conforms to regulations in regard to the Data Protection Act
- Undesirable consequences associated with breaches of information security are avoided. This includes but is not limited to; bad publicity, fraud and illegal use of personal data.
- Staff and tutors understand their responsibilities online to ensure the welfare and safeguarding of pupils.
- Staff and tutors understand the boundaries of acceptable behavior, to mitigate the risk of inappropriate communication taking place between staff, tutors and pupils and of having misplaced allegations being made against staff or tutors.

This policy applies when using school computers, using your own device connected to the college's wireless network and when representing Carfax. Keep in mind that even when using social media and public blogs and forums you may still be seen as representing the school.

All staff, tutors and people offering services at the college who access school IT systems are required to read and comply with this policy. Failure to comply with the policy may lead to an investigation and hearing under the college's disciplinary policy, or other appropriate action.

2. Responsible use of IT

2.1 Staff and tutors are expected to use Carfax College IT systems responsibly and primarily for the purposes of their job (see section 7 – Use of school ICT facilities for personal use).

2.3 Staff and tutors should not attempt to browse internet sites or access content that is illegal, offensive or indecent. This includes content that is pornographic or that promotes violence, religious extremism or discrimination.

2.4 Staff and tutors should not upload or post aggressive or offensive material to the internet (for example material that is racist, sexist or in any way discriminatory or liable to incite violence or hate crimes).

3. Data protection

3.1 Staff and tutors should understand their responsibilities when accessing, using and sharing college data and only do so according to college policies and the Data Protection Act 1998 (see the Data Protection and Confidentiality Agreement).

3.2 Unless otherwise stated school data (for example personal information relating to staff, tutors or pupils, work submitted by students, internal examinations, financial data or confidential minutes) must only be stored and processed on school computers and systems.

3.3 Personal email, USB drives or cloud storage (Dropbox, Google Drive etc.) may only be used to store curriculum resources (for example presentations or worksheets to be used in lessons) or material that is in the public domain.

3.4 Staff and tutors should be mindful of using systems containing sensitive information e.g. email, in the presence of students, parents or visitors, particularly if the computer is connected to a projector.

3.5 If a member of staff or a tutor is aware that college data, particularly staff, tutors' or pupils' Personally Identifiable Data (PID), has been or could be accessed by an unauthorised source (e.g. due to loss of equipment containing data), they should inform the Principal immediately who will decide whether the Information Commissioner's Office needs to be notified.

3.7 When leaving a computer, staff and tutors should make sure that they have logged off or that the computer is locked (hold down the Windows Key and press 'L').

4. IT security

4.1 The security of the college's IT systems is the responsibility of all staff and tutors

4.2 Staff and tutors must only log onto the college IT systems using their own username and password.

4.3 Staff and tutors must not share their username and password with anyone else

4.5 Staff and tutors should not attempt to bypass the college's internet filtering system.

5. Use of email

5.1 The content of an email may constitute another person's personal data and therefore be subject to the provisions of the data protection act. Similarly, any email may need to be disclosed in the case of legal action. Staff and tutors should therefore assume that the content of any email may be seen by others including the subject of the email.

5.2 Staff and tutors should remain mindful that email is not a secure form of communication. Other forms of communication should be considered for sending confidential or sensitive information.

5.3 Consideration should be given to the number of emails sent, ensuring that all methods of online communication are used appropriately as an alternative.

5.4 Staff and tutors are asked to observe certain protocols so that the use of email does not become a disruption in the day to day working life of colleagues.

6. Safeguarding and conduct with pupils

6.1 Staff and tutors should understand their responsibilities with regard to safeguarding (see the Safeguarding (Child Protection) policy) and understand that these also apply when using ICT.

6.2 If you suspect that illegal content has been accessed using a college computer, or that a college system such as email has been used inappropriately contact the Principal immediately. Do not attempt to access the content yourself as this could corrupt any evidence.

6.3 Pupil data, including Personally Identifiable Data (PID), photographs and audio/video recordings must only be stored on school systems and not posted/uploaded to the internet.

6.4 In accordance with the Staff Code of Conduct, staff and tutors should not give out their personal mobile, email or home telephone numbers to a pupil. College phones should be used on trips to avoid staff and tutors having to give out their personal phone number to pupils. If staff or tutors are required to communicate with pupils using their own device, communication should be via the school email system.

6.5 Photographs or audio/video recordings of students should only be taken using school equipment. Staff and tutors must not use their own cameras or phones or store photographs or audio/video recordings on their own computer or memory cards. School cameras are available to loan from the IT department.

6.6 Staff and tutors should always avoid any online (as well as offline) conduct that could be interpreted as a sexual advance or "grooming" and avoid words or expressions or any behaviour online (as well as offline) that could be interpreted as having any sexual innuendo.

7. Use of school ICT facilities for personal use

7.1 It is understood that staff or tutors may occasionally need to use the School's ICT facilities for personal, non-college related use. Such use should be kept to a minimum so as not to interfere with work and responsibilities and limited to break times or outside of school hours. Staff and tutors should also remain mindful that information or messages sent through school facilities may be attributed to the school. Personal views should be stated as such.

7.2 Staff and tutors may use printers and photocopiers for personal items on an occasional basis. However, these facilities are provided to users primarily for school related work.

7.3 Staff and tutors should not save personal files on the school network such as personal photos, music files etc. Disciplinary action may be taken if it is established that college ICT facilities have been used to excess for personal use.

8. Use of personal devices in college

Social Media policy

1. Purpose and scope of the policy

1.1 This policy applies to the use of social media for college business and sets out expectations for staff and tutor personal use, whether during working hours or at other times. Its purpose is to help staff and tutors avoid the potential pitfalls of sharing information on such social media sites and should be read in conjunction with the Staff Acceptable Use of ICT policy. The policy applies at all times whether using college computers or your own device and both when in school or at home.

2. Introduction

2.1 The college recognises that the internet provides unique opportunities for sharing and communicating in both a personal and professional context. Staff and tutors are free to use social media such as Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, as well as collaborative tools such as blogs and wikis. However, staff and tutors should remain mindful of their professional responsibilities and use sound judgement and common sense.

2.2 When communicating with pupils, staff and tutors should use a college system (such as the Portal or email) as this is more appropriate than using social media. If college systems do not meet your needs consult with the IT Manager who can suggest an alternative and provide advice on using the social media platform appropriately.

3. Guiding principles

3.1 Staff and tutors are expected to demonstrate a sense of responsibility and in doing so, adhere to the following principles:

3.2 Staff and tutors must not communicate with pupils using a personal social media account or add pupils as 'friends' or similar or join the same social media groups. Depending on the circumstances, it may also be inappropriate to communicate with parents or add them as 'friends'.

3.3 Staff and tutors should exercise caution when making links with ex-pupils of the college on a personal social media account. Keep in mind that an ex-pupil may also be linked or 'friends' with current pupils which (depending on your privacy settings) may expose your personal information or content.

3.4 Staff and tutors should ensure that the privacy settings for any personal social media profiles are configured appropriately and limit the amount of information that is publically available.

3.5 Staff and tutors must be mindful of how they present themselves and the college on such media. The private life of an employee at the college may have professional consequences and this must be considered at all times when sharing personal information in this format.

3.6 Staff and tutors must not represent personal views as those of the college, nor disclose the views of colleagues or others working with the college (e.g. consultants).

3.7 When writing an internet post, staff and tutors should remember that this is not a secure form of communication and consider whether the contents would be more appropriate in a private message. While there may be strict privacy controls in place on personal accounts, information could still be copied and shared by others and can easily enter the public domain. For this reason, it is always sensible to consider that all information posted online has entered the public domain.

3.8 Staff and tutors should protect the privacy of others by omitting personal information from internet posts such as names, email addresses, home or work addresses, phone numbers or other personal information, and it is recommended that the same principles are followed for the user's own personal information.

3.9 Staff and tutors must not post anything that may offend, insult or humiliate others, particularly on the basis of their sex, age, race, colour, national origin, religion or belief, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, pregnancy or maternity. Nor must staff and tutors post anything that could be interpreted as threatening, intimidating or abusive. Offensive posts or messages may be construed as cyberbullying.

3.10 Staff and tutors must not post disparaging or derogatory remarks about colleagues or the college, or its Governors, pupils or parents.

3.11 Staff and tutors must not use social media in a way which could constitute a breach of any of the School's employment or other policies.

4. Official use of school social media accounts

4.1 As far as possible college IT systems should be used for all official college business, however social media may be used where college systems do not meet specific requirements, for example communications and marketing, alumnae relations or for specific curriculum needs.

4.2 College social media accounts must be kept separate from personal accounts and registered using a college email address.

4.3 College social media account usernames and passwords must be logged with the Operations Manager.

4.4 A designated member of staff must be responsible for managing and approving content posted on the social media account, including content or comments that external parties may post.

4.5 Accounts that are no longer used should be deactivated or deleted.

4.6 The college will monitor the use of college social media accounts to check that their use is compliant with college policies.

5. Removing postings

5.1 Staff and tutors may be required to remove internet postings which are deemed to constitute a breach of this policy.

6. Breach of Social Media policy

6.1 Failure to comply with this policy may result in an investigation and hearing under the college's disciplinary policy or other appropriate action.
